Allen Hammer presents:

The New Step III Instrument ... plus ... Fresh Insights for You and Your Clients

Saturday, January 28, 2012

*Sutter Galleria, Sacramento - 9 a.m. to Noon + 1:15 p.m. to 3:15

AM Session:

- Learn about the newest MBTI® instrument and how to use it
- Grasp a deeper understanding of “type development” and how to apply it -- in your own life and with your clients, students, and team members, whether new to type or more experienced
- Learn 3 ways to encourage type development and how to measure it

PM Session:

- New insights on the meaning of close MBTI® preference scores
- How managers and peers tend to interpret close scores on a variety of performance issues, plus strategies for coaching
- Much more on discoveries from Isabel Myers’ unpublished research

Allen Hammer, PhD (INTP) consults to international organizations on team and leadership development. He is former Senior Scientist for the publisher of the MBTI,® author/co-author of many MBTI manuals and computer-generated reports, recipient of APTi Awards for Innovation and for Research, and, with Naomi Quenk, a member of a team that is unveiling fresh insights from the cartons of research left behind by the MBTI’s principal author.
